

Esther Gicheru

Dr. Esther N. Gicheru, Principal, The Co-operative University College of Kenya.

She holds a PhD in Organizational Development and Transformation from Cebu Doctors' University, Philippines, a Masters in Co-operative Management and Organizational Development from Leicester University, UK, and a Bachelor of Science in Agriculture from the University of Nairobi.

She has a wealth of experience of over 36 years in the Co-operative sector spanning the Ministry of Co-operative Development and Marketing, where she has served under various capacities for 12 years and the Co-operative College of Kenya.

She has contributed to the cooperative movement both locally and internationally and especially within the Co-operative education profession, having served as Principal of the Co-operative College of Kenya for a period of 24 years.