Application Form for Accreditation to the Open-ended Working Group on Ageing (OEWGA)

a) The purpose of Age International

The purpose of Age International is to help older people in developing countries improve their income, escape poverty, receive the right kind of healthcare, survive emergencies, and have their contributions to families and communities recognised and valued.

We are working towards a world in which all people in later life can say:

- ‘I am given the help and information I want in emergencies’
- ‘I have the income I need, and enjoy the best possible health and care’
- ‘My voice is heard by decision-makers’
- ‘I am safe and secure, free from all forms of discrimination, violence and abuse’

b) Programmes and activities of Age International in areas relevant to the human rights of older persons

Programmes

Twelve examples of the programmes we are currently running are shown in the included excel spreadsheet.

Research

Our flagship publication ‘Facing the Facts: the truth about ageing and development’ presents expert, policy and research perspectives on ageing and development.

In 2015/16, we produced a report entitled ‘A UN convention on the rights of older people: time for the UK to lead’.

We supported the development of the World Health Organisation’s ‘World Report on Ageing and Health’, and hosted its UK launch.

We produced a report into Older Citizen’s Monitoring (OCM) with HelpAge International, which showed that older people, if empowered, can be key drivers for change at local, regional and national levels.

We are currently working on a piece of research regarding the impact of Older People’s Associations in South East Asia.

Influencing and advocacy

In the UK we work to secure cross-party support in Parliament for the UK Government to be more proactive in addressing ageing as part of its work on international development.
We work closely with the UK Government’s Department for International Development (DFID) to ensure that older people and ageing are embedded in the Government’s approach to the Sustainable Development Goals.

We work closely with Age UK and HelpAge International to build a broader base of support for a UN convention on the rights of older people. To do this, we work closely with the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office (as well as other government departments) to build a greater understanding of the need for a convention, as well as carrying out research and gathering evidence on the benefits of a convention.

We work actively with UN and multilateral agencies to promote a better understanding of issues affecting older people in developing countries: WHO, UN-DESA, UN Women, UNDP, OECD.

c) Confirmation of the activities of Age International at the national, regional or international level

Age International is an active member of various civil society networks and platforms at national, regional and international levels, including:

- AGE Platform Europe (as part of the Age UK group)
- HelpAge International global network (UK member)
- Stakeholder Group on Ageing

About Age International

Age International is the only charity in the UK dedicated to the needs and rights of older people in developing countries.

The Charity exists to help older people in developing countries improve their income, escape poverty, receive the right kind of healthcare, survive emergencies, and have their contributions to families and communities recognised and valued.

This is because the world’s population is getting older and we want to change the world for older people.

Our vision is of a world in which women and men everywhere can lead dignified, healthy and secure lives as they grow older.

Message from the Chairman and Managing Director

In a year that began with the terrible earthquake in Nepal, we were pleased to be able to respond, thanks to the generosity of our supporters, and the success of the Disasters Emergency Committee (DEC) appeal, of which we were a part. You can read more about this, and our other humanitarian, longer-term development work and our policy and influencing work in the pages that follow.

The fact that older people and ageing were specifically included in the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in September 2015, was one of our highlights of the year, and was the result of several years of hard work by organisations including Age International. The UK Government’s subsequent pledge to ‘leave no one behind’ in the implementation of the SDGs, which included older people and age discrimination, shows how an understanding of global ageing and development is growing among decision-makers. We hope you will find this record of our work interesting. You will read about some of our achievements and how we go about our work. You will see how closely we collaborate with others: we benefit from the considerable support and expertise of Age UK, of which we are a subsidiary, and we are proud to be the UK member of a global network, HelpAge, responding to the challenges of global ageing and addressing the particular needs of older people in some of the world’s poorest countries.

We are greatly encouraged with what we have achieved in the last year. Yet we recognise that there is so much more to be done. Our achievements give us energy to redouble our efforts to ensure that the needs and rights of older people are properly included, so that no older person is left behind.

Our strategic objectives

What we want older people to say

- I am given the help and information I want in emergencies
- I have the income I need, and enjoy the best possible health and care
- My voice is heard by decision-makers
- I am safe and secure, free from discrimination, violence and abuse

How we help

- We provide emergency relief
- We support long-term development programmes
- We advocate and influence
- We research and evaluate
- We support the HelpAge global network
Age International is the only UK charity focusing on the needs and rights of older people in developing countries. It is a charitable subsidiary of Age UK and a member of the HelpAge global network and the Disasters Emergency Committee (DEC).

We support older people in developing countries by improving livelihoods, health and healthcare; providing age-friendly emergency relief; and by challenging attitudes, influencing decision-makers and changing policies.
