

Linda Shaw

Dr Linda Shaw is Vice Principal at the Co-operative College in Manchester responsible for research and international programmes.

The College delivers a wide range of research, international and educational programmes for co-operatives in partnership with universities, NGOs and African Co-operative Colleges.

Prior to joining the College, Linda worked at the University of Manchester, the Open University in the UK and an international NGO specialising in gender issues.